

April 10, 2020

BREAKING “Good” NEWS:

With the painful decision to cancel the 2020 SID Annual Meeting due to the on-going COVID-19 pandemic, the SID is excited to announce that we are planning a free virtual Zoom meeting of selected content of the original 2020 Annual Meeting.

Please save the dates of May 13-16, 2020 (the original in-person dates) for this virtual event.

We anticipate live broadcasts of plenary presentations and pre-recorded presentations of invited lectures and all abstracts selected for minisymposia.

Additional information on how to request full refunds for those of you who registered for the live meeting and other details will be following in the coming days.

Check your email, SID websites, and various SID social media platforms for upcoming details.

We look forward to “seeing” you soon!